2018 World Kidney Day Activity Report AIIMS India

On the occasion of the World Kidney Day this year, the Department of Nephrology All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), Delhi organized various events from 7th - 9th March, 2018. The events organized on this occasion were:

- 7th March: Public Lecture and Panel Discussion - AIIMS
- 8th March: Symposium on Kidney Diseases for nurses - AIIMS
- 9th March: 'Symposium on Kidney Diseases' for doctors – General Hospital for employees

The aim was to increase awareness in all sections of the society namely medicos, para-medical staff and the general public

The Public Education Lecture and Panel Discussion on 7th March in the Jawaharlal Nehru Auditorium AIIMS was a well-attended programme with a long Q&A session. There were eminent panelists from various specialties such as nephrology, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics and transplant surgery. The scheduled one-hour programme extended for two hours. On 8th The department conducted a Symposium on Kidney Diseases for Nursing Students. This was attended by about 400 students from seven nursing colleges across Delhi, along with their faculty.

On 9th March the department conducted a CME program for about 60 doctors in a general hospital for insured employees.
